Administration

Bushnell High School is a four-year high school fully recognized by the State Department and accredited with the University of Illinois. This standing admits graduates to any college.

Requirements for Graduation

Sixteen year units are required of all who graduate, distributed as follows:

1. Four units of English.
2. Two units of Mathematics, one of which must be Algebra I.
3. Two units of Science, one of which must be General Science.
4. Two units of History, one of which must be American History.
5. Six approved elective units.

Course of Study

The following course of study provides subjects which will allow the students to receive thorough training in a general academic course. For those preparing to enter college a well-rounded college entrance course is given. Others find major interest in agriculture, manual training, home economics or commercial training.

Departments

The Commercial Department stresses the rudiments of business education, and instills the principles of shorthand, typewriting, and bookkeeping. Typewriting is given independently of shorthand, but shorthand student is required to take typewriting. Commercial arithmetic is offered to supplement this course.

A flourishing Agriculture Department gives a knowledge of soils and animal husbandry to groups of boys. Under the able leadership of Harland E. Lowe, the department has become a strong one, and to be placed on a higher accrediting scale in the near future. An Agriculture Club has been formed to further interest among the boys.

The Manual Training Department is a busy one. The students are taught how to use tools and to make simple furniture. Mr. Rutledge has formed an Industrial Arts Club to which many of the boys belong.

The Home Economics Department carries out a well organized course in beginning and advanced sewing, and elementary cooking. Lack of room makes the department much smaller than popular demand would have it. A progressive Home Economics Club carries on the work in a very satisfactory manner.

Strong lines of work are carried out in the History, Science, Mathematics, Language and English Departments. Being largely required work the enrollment in these departments is large.

Very successful results are seen in both boys' and girls' athletics in our school.

With an enrollment of 220 and with eleven members on our faculty we feel that Bushnell High School is a growing institution.

The Board of Education

The Board of Education has accomplished much for the school and for the town. The members are busy men and women who gladly give their time for the good of the school. The personnel of the Board of Education for the present year is as follows:

Mr. Rufus Lybarger, President.

Mrs. Zoe Scholes.

Mr. Chester Walthers.

Mr. Earl Fisk.

Mr. L. R. Norcross.

Mr. L. E. Brewbaker.

Mrs. Zoe Helfrich.

Thrift Banking

Thrift banking has been an organized activity in Bushnell High School for several years. Our aim has been to reach the 100% mark and to keep this record consistently. This aim was realized during the year 1928-29, and continued throughout this year. The Thrift ideal is to teach the methodical saving of money with a definite purpose in regard to its ultimate investment; this purpose involving that which would be of the most value to the owner of the Thrift deposit, at the time of investment. This ideal has not been wholly accomplished but each year a larger number of students are leaving their savings in the bank. In this way, we feel that the idea of Thrift taught in high school to the boys and girls will lead them to invest their money more intelligently when they reach maturity.

Loyalty

When you hear the rooters yelling, Rah! Rah! Rah!
When you hear the chorus singing, Bushnell High,
Forth come our heroes facing their foes,
When you see the team go crashing on, on, on,
Rushing on to victory,
Raise your voices loud in glad acclaim,
For Bushnell High.

Chorus:
Blue and maroon, we're marching onward,
Courage and strength we owe to you,
To Bushnell High may we ever be true
In the life we may pursue.
Each boy and girl ever loyal,
Each loyal heart beating true,
In meeting, defeating, each task before us,
Three cheers old High for you,
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Senior Class History

In September 1926, a class of sixty-seven freshmen entered Bushnell High School. Sara Mae Boaz was elected president, La Rue Spiker vice-president, Mary Cobb secretary-treasurer, and Miss Turner sponsor. According to custom, we were initiated and came up smiling. In appreciation for this entertainment we entertained the three upper classes at a weiner roast. Now being full-fledged high school students, we became members of all the organizations to which freshmen were eligible. In athletics the girls' basketball team won the tournament, and Ted Wright was elected captain of the boys' second basketball team.

The officers during our sophomore year were: President, George Alexander; vice-president, Bliss Soule; secretary-treasurer, Elbert Crowl; and sponsor, Miss Turner. A better showing was made in athletics for Clyde Pestle received a letter in football, George Alexander became a member of the boys' second basketball team, and the girls continued as basketball champions. We were represented in G. A. A., Latin Club, Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, and French Club. Among many others, a delightful Hallowe'en party was enjoyed.

The next year proved even more successful than the two previous ones. Several familiar faces failed to appear, but most of our number still remained. Election of officers resulted with Keith Murphy, president; Bliss Soule, vice-president; George Alexander, secretary-treasurer; Miss Turner, sponsor; and Mrs. Adams, assistant sponsor. Many boys received football, basketball and track letters, and the girls still held the basketball championship. Juniors could be found in French Club, Glee Club, Home Economics Club, Block B, and G. A. A., several of them holding offices. The high school cheer leader was elected from our group. Ethel Mae Smith and John Rouse won the county declamation meet this year. A skating party, theatre party, and several picnics offered entertainment during the year. The Junior Play, "Never Again," was a decided success as was also the Junior-Senior Banquet which closed the year's social activities.

This, our senior year, we elected Olin Clark, president; George Alexander, vice-president; Woodrow Welch, secretary; John Rouse, treasurer; Miss Turner, sponsor; and Mr. White, assistant sponsor. The honor of captaincy of the football squad fell to Olin Clark, and of the basketball team to George Alexander. The girls upheld their previous record by winning the basketball tournament. Representatives from the class were found in the numerous organizations: La Rue Spiker, president of the G. A. A.; Ruth Rebman, president of the Home Economics Club; Erna Mann, president of the French Club; Bliss Soule, president of the Industrial Arts Club; Elbert Crowl, president of the Agriculture Club, and other seniors filled minor offices in these organizations. We demonstrated our musical ability by the senior members of the orchestra. Several seniors went out for declamation and enjoyed it very much. The Senior program was especially enjoyed by all. A Valentine party was a rather outstanding social event of this year. Perhaps the largest responsibility we had was sponsoring the "Replica," the high school annual. Then came the Senior Play which proved the splendid talent of the Class of '30. The Juniors delightfully entertained us with a lovely banquet.

Soon our senior days will be over and each member of the Class of '30 will travel a different road, but as we part at the crossways not one will forget those four profitable years spent in Bushnell High School. Our hope is that each of these roads will lead to success.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1930, knowing that our constitutions are fast giving way to the maladies of History, English, and Physics, and wishing to make our exit profitable to the underclassmen, do hereby authorize this last will and testament in order to reward them, as well as warn them, of the difficulties arising from this dignified station of life.

Section I

To the Faculty

To Mr. White—We bequeath our supply of good English, providing he use it.

To Mr. Lowe—We bequeath a book entitled "Twenty Minutes Late."

To Miss Richardson—We bequeath a crate of apples. You know, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

To Miss Snyder—We bequeath an extra broom and dust pan so she may clean the Physics Lab., in case next year's physics class has any explosions.

To Miss Knowlton—We bequeath an extra can of gasoline. She may need it the next time she takes "Rut" to Canton.

To Mr. Babcook—We bequeath our jovial natures so that his Lindberg grin will always be in sight.

To Miss Hart—We bequeath our lusty lungs so she can be heard above the clamor when lecturing on "Less Noise."

To Miss Grove—We bequeath our recipe for seriousness.

To Miss Van Schoick—We bequeath our empty ink bottles as happy homes for unfortunate bugs.

To Mr. Rutledge—We bequeath an extra banking fund so he can buy a new Ford.

To Miss Turner—We bequeath memories of her four years' association with the Class of '30.

Section II

To the Classes

To the Juniors—We bequeath our splendid class spirit.

To the Sophomores—We bequeath our exalted place on the honor roll.

To the Freshmen—We bequeath our good looks and dignified manner.

Section III

Personal Bequests

I, Annie Geeves, bequeath my ability to shoot a gun to anyone who wants a big kick.

I, Clifford Swanson, bequeath my winning ways with women to Earl Sutliff.

I, Mary Jayne Haymaker, bequeath my chewing gum to Audrey Harland with hopes that she may keep it out of sight next year.

I, "Tiny" Rouse, bequeath my old Ford to "Whistle" Vincent providing he furnishes as good a taxi for the girls as I have.

I, Anna Shumaker, bequeath my baby talk to anyone who needs it.

I, Lauretta Kessler, bequeath my longtiude to Dorothea Fugate.

I, Isabelle Rouse, bequeath my quiet ways to Jessie King.

I, Olin Clark, bequeath my football ability to John Ball.

I, Esther Waid, bequeath my interest in "Vince" Kane to any timid freshman girl.

I, Virginia Oblander, bequeath my ability in drawing to "Kate" Kane.

I, Frances Aten, bequeath to Garnet Cramblet, my pastime of feeding "Rut" in cooking, providing she is as good a cook as I.

We, Burnette Huffman and Ralph Fox bequeath our interest in the Freshman Class to "Worm" Orum and Harold Hall.

I, "Woodie" Welch, bequeath my winning smile to anyone desiring a girl.

I, George Alexander, bequeath my delicate laugh to Ferman Lynn.

I, Mildred Wilson, bequeath my winning ways with boys to Ida Spangler.

I, Isyl Spangler, bequeath my school taxi to Pat Roark.

I, Keith Fox, bequeath my musical talent to Maurice Hunt.

I, Hugh Palmeter, bequeath my patent leather hair to Don Sperry.

I, Cleo Weaver, bequeath my last permanent to Jessie Fugate.

I, Erna Mann, bequeath my horrid temper to Elizabeth Bobbitt.

I, Lucille Vincent, bequeath my love of gossiping to Sara Beth Helfrich.

I, Martin Cox, bequeath my skillful teacher-bluffing to Eddie Kessler.

I, Roseanna Snell, bequeath my junior class ring to Ella Mae Kelley.

I, Elbert Crowl, bequeath my ability in note writing to Freddie Oblander.

I, Helen Dixon, bequeath my compact to anyone promising to keep it out of Mr. White's sight.

I, Ethel Mae Smith, bequeath my sister to anyone who will take care of her.

I, Ruth Rebman, bequeath to Ruth Walthers my attraction for the sterner sex.

I, Mary Cobb, bequeath my privilege of writing letters during school hours to Harriet Birdsall.

I, Ruth Bell, bequeath my giggle to Mary Caroline Sperry.

We do revoke and annul all former wills, and appoint Brother Harold Myers as sole executor of this, our last will and testament.

Signed and witnessed this twenty-seventh day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred thirty,

"Squink" Lantz.
"Ruf" Lybarger.

THE CLASS OF 1930.

Prophecy

As I opened my mail one morning in 1955, I came across a letter bearing the postmark of Bushnell, Ill., appraising me of a reunion of the Class of 1930. The reunion was to be held at Bushnell on October 15, and I decided to go.

The train pulled into Bushnell, and Ruth Rebman, who was modeling in "Saks Fifth Avenue" in Chicago, Ill., and I, stepped off, noting that there had been improvements made in the last twenty-five years. We hailed a taxi and asked to be taken to the hotel. During the ride we noticed the various changes in the town since we had left it.

We approached the desk and I thought the man's face seemed familiar and finally recognized Burnette Huffman. He told us that the hotel belonged to him, and gave us a very nice room. After unpacking we wished to visit the school. While going through the lobby someone came up to me and asked if I was Helen Dixon and I replied "Yes," and then I realized the speaker to be Lucille Vincent, who said she was living in Manley and that she was doing the house work in the Old Ladies Home there. We talked for awhile during which time I told her that I enjoyed my work as a nurse in the Maywood Hospital near Chicago. After she left I met Ruth Rebman and we walked over to the school.

The students, of course, were in classes and we went to the office first. Imagine our surprise upon finding Martin Cox in possession of the superintendent's chair. He greeted us very cordially and we visited with him a few minutes. As we went on down the hall we met a teacher who appeared familiar and she seemed to be trying to place us, also. At last Ruth recognized Mildred Sparks. She decided to go back to her room with us and there she showed us a physics book which she had written, and which she informed us was much easier than the one from which she had been taught.

The attraction of the afternoon was the football game. Coach Silberer led his undefeated team onto the field amid loud cheers and the strains of the "B. H. S. Loyalty." All of the spectators were very interested in the game and cheered with the students over the many brilliant plays which were part of the game. Following the game we returned to the hotel.

Hugh Palmeter owned the new theatre and in honor of the reunion he was showing "The Spirit of '30," featuring Esther Waid, Helen Stambaugh, and Elbert Crowl. Two added features of the evening were the vaudeville composed of members of our class, and the news-reel of the doings of famous classmates.

We decided to go but first we had dinner in the hotel dining room. Our waitress we recognized as Cleo Weaver, who said that her husband would not support her because she bought too many shoes and she thought she would sue Bowman's for making her desire pretty shoes.

Later we left the hotel and received another surprise upon finding the driver of the taxi which we had entered to be Isyl Spangler. I recalled his "School Taxi" and all the good old B. H. S. days.

We stopped before the beautiful new building and the doorman opened the door. I recognized Harlan McMeen as I stepped from the taxi and we stopped to exchange a few words with him. As I went to buy our tickets I found myself looking into the eyes of Mildred Helen Wilson. We were very glad to see each other but could only say a few words because of the people who were waiting. Ruth and I entered the lobby of the theatre. Here we found the ticket-taker, who appeared familiar. Then I recognized Keith Fox and knowing that he had married Harriet Birdsall, I inquired as to her health. After his affirmative reply, we were directed to Aisle 3. The usher was Florence Kingdon, and later we learned that Lucille Stephens, Irene Hellyer, and Ruth Bell were her assistants. We were conducted to a seat and proceeded to make ourselves comfortable.

The theatre was dimly lighted and we heard beautiful music. The organ rose slowly from the orchestra pit and the organist proceeded to give us much entertainment. When she turned and bowed I received the impression that she was Mary Cobb, and the following day this impression was confirmed.

The theatre darkened, the organ descended, a murmur passed through the crowd, and Ruth and I became more comfortable. The curtain drew back and the news-reel began. The cameraman, who had taken these interesting pictures, was Woodrow Welch.

The first enlightening notice was the sale of Henry Ford's plant to John Rouse, who was a great financier. Next "Woodie" had journeyed to France where he procured a picture of Miss Turner, and her trainer, Albert Havens, as the former finished her record swim across the English Channel. Although I was happy over the triumph, my joy turned to sorrow upon learning from the next picture that Frances Aten, the noted woman orator, had passed away. This woman was known the world over for her orations and powers of debate and it seemed such a shame that the world should lose her. "Noted opera singer arrives in U. S. A." flashed across the screen and I became very interested for I wondered which of my classmates had become so musical. The noted singer was the member of our class named Ethel Mae Smith. Woodrow was certainly finding interesting things from all over the world because we next learned that Annie Geeves was returning to the mission fields of Africa. The last piece of news brought to our eyes four lovely dress creations from Virginia Oblander's shop in Paris, France.

Following the news-reel came the feature picture, "The Spirit of '30." The director of this marvelous picture was Ralph Fox and the scenario writer was Clyde Pestle. The stars of this movie were Esther Waid, Elbert Crowl, and Helen Stambaugh, all of them portraying their characters excellently.

After a short intermission "Soule's Happy-go-Lucky Boys" introduced the vaudeville by playing well under the direction of our friend Bliss Soule. During this selection the theatre dancing chorus executed a very interesting dance. They all seemed familiar and between us Ruth and I decided that Roseanna Snell, Lenora Young, Lauretta Kessler, La Rue Spiker, Sara Mae Boaz, and Erna Mann were the members of the revue. Following the dance the audience was astounded at the marvelous feats performed by Whozis, the well-known magician and his excellent assistant. Ruth recognized them as Rex Steffy and Isabelle Rouse, respectively. The orchestra gave us another jazz selection which was interrupted by the entrance of two black faces who proved to be very clever. On the advertisement outside we found them to be Leonard Berglund and Clifford Swanson. The revue again became the center of attraction but left the stage to allow the famous tumblers, Clark and Haymaker, to take the limelight. They were very good and the audience was thrilled by their daring. After another number by the orchestra and the finale, a perfect evening came to an end.

The lights flashed on and the crowd began to depart. After we had left the theatre we decided to eat, and coming to a lovely confectionery, we went in. The proprietor was George Alexander, who was very glad to see us. We sat down at a table and it wasn't very long until the place was full. Many of the actors were there and we had a wonderful time talking over the B. H. S. days together.

Former Classmates

In looking over the roll of the Senior Class and comparing it with those of our first three years in Bushnell High we find many changes. New names appear, as others are withdrawn yet all have contributed toward the success of our class. That we may express our appreciation to these former classmates, we name them in our "Replica."

History

"All aboard for Diploma City!" At last we were really moving. The Freshman coach of the "High School Express" had been reserved for us and it was rather well filled, having fifty-four members. Miss Jones, the conductor, came along and we all made a frantic dive into our brains to find enough algebra, English, and history to pay our fares.

Mr. Reedy, the engineer, was running the train so fast we were fairly dizzy, but we had chosen good and able leaders for our class: President, Virginia Pappas; vice-president, Robert Norcross; secretary, Jessie King, and treasurer, Evelyn Swanson. Miss Snyder was our sponsor and gave us good advice.

As we became more comfortable and more accustomed to the rate of speed at which we were traveling we began to enjoy ourselves. The first coach, usually known as Senior coach, held an initiation in which we were given a taste of Shakespeare by having two of our members play "Romeo and Juliet." Following the curves the train came to a long straight stretch, and we became members of every organization to which "Freshies" were eligible. We took an active part in athletics, in G. A. A., in Latin Club, in the Glee Clubs, and we were represented on the Honor Roll.

Having passed Freshman Junction we now moved into the Sophomore coach which was one more step toward our goal, Diploma City. For our leaders this year we elected James Lybarger, president; Maudie Spradlin, vice-president; Jessie King, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Tainter gave us counsel.

We were well represented in athletics, both boys' and girls', and in all organizations of the school. During our year's stay in this coach, we enjoyed several interesting parties.

Now, as Juniors, we occupy the third coach. Our officers are: president, Don Sperry; vice-president, Ferrol Endres; secretary, Winnie Hunt; treasurer, Robert Norcross, and sponsors, Miss Grove and Miss Richardson. We have boys on both basketball and football teams, and our girls are showing their mettle in sports. The French Club, Home Economics Club, History Club, G. A. A., and Glee Club have their share of Junior members. The cheer leader and one of his assistants was chosen from our group. The "Hi-Life," the new high school paper, was introduced by our class and under the capable direction of Miss Hart, three one-act plays were given to finance it. The Junior play, given soon after, showed that we have real talent.

After the Junior-Senior Banquet the Seniors departed and now we are leading the "High School Express" as it ploughs over the Railroad of Knowledge, toward Diploma City.

"JUST ANOTHER DAY"

A COMEDY IN SIX ACTS

Place—Bushnell High School.
Time—Any day.

CAST

Members of Bushnell High School Faculty.
Junior Class.

ACT I.

STUDY HALL—BEFORE SCHOOL

Winnie Hunt (entering): "Daisy, have you your English?"

Daisy Davis (walking beside her): "What did you say? Oh, gee!" (Yells as she tries to catch a book that is falling to the floor).

Miss Richardson: "Girls! This is the study hall. Let's have it quiet."

Winnie (now seated): "Have you your English, I asked you."

Daisy: "I read it over, that's all."

(Noise in the Freshman section.)

Miss Richardson: "If some of you Freshmen don't settle down, I'll send you to the office. The Seniors aren't any too quiet either." (Prepares to take roll.)

"Don, will you run up that curtain?"

Don Sperry: "Yes, I'll try, but I'm not much good at monkey-shines."

Miss Richardson: "That's enough out of you, Don." (Takes roll and rings bell for classes to pass.)

ACT II.

THIRD PERIOD—BIOLOGY LABORATORY

Miss Van Schoick: "Now, while we call this insect a grasshopper, it really is a locust."

Evelyn Swanson: "But I saw one hop in the grass."

Jessie King: "Say, did you ever have one hop on you? Brrr—I'm scared to death of the things."

Glenn Garvin: "Just like a girl! But did you ever hear one sing?"

Lurah Roberts: "Aw, grasshoppers don't sing. They just make that funny noise when they brush the dust off their wings."

Miss Van Schoick: "Have you noticed the compound eyes?"

Glenn: "Compound eyes?"

Miss Van Schoick: "Yes, the grasshopper has eyes composed of many parts—a mosaic eye."

Jessie (interrupting): "Can he wink them all at one time?"

(Bell rings for passing.)

Miss Van Schoick: "Tomorrow we'll investigate the interior structures of—Yes, yes, go on, you'll be late."

ACT III.

FIFTH PERIOD—MISS VAN SCHOICK'S FRENCH CLASS

Miss Van Schoick (entering): "Bon jour, mes eleves."
Junior pupils (responding): "Bon jour, Miss Van."
Seniors (listening with awe): "How'd they ever learn that?"
"Pude": "We didn't, we just repeated it after her."
Seniors: "Humph! Just as we thought."
"Pude" (showing he knows some French): "Oh, sapristi! Fermez la bouche!"
(Then followed thirty minutes of perspiring over French verbs.)
Miss Van: "Eh bien, mes eleves, pour demain—"
(Bell rings; pupils rush out leaving Miss Van talking.)

ACT IV.

SIXTH PERIOD—MISS KNOWLTON'S TYPING CLASS

Margeurite Bloomfield: "Erna, will you buy a ticket to 'Cabbages' from me?"
Miss Knowlton: "I've told you before that you shouldn't talk in my classes. Where's Glenn?"
Glenn Garvin (coming in about ten minutes late): "Here I am, Miss Knowlton. I couldn't come any sooner because I was talking out in the hall."
Miss Knowlton: "Well, young man, you better hustle in here next time. This is the third time you've been late this week."
John Burke: "When do we take our speed tests?"
Miss Knowlton: "Just hold your horses, John, and I'll give them to you."
(Fifteen minutes of earnest typing.)
Martha Fiske: "What did you make, Berneice?"
(Bell rings and everyone hurries to cover their machines.)

ACT V.

SEVENTH PERIOD—GIRLS' GYM CLASS

Cora Daugherty: "What are all you kids down here for? You don't take gym."
Verla Wise: "Miss Snyder said we could practice basketball."
Garnet Cramblet: "We sure need it, too, if we play those Freshmen tonight."
Daisy Davis: "Evelyn, I want you to get that ball when I ———"
Evelyn Swanson: "Aw, don't try to tell me how to play. I'm just as ———"
Virginia Pappas: "Say, if you two put as much energy into getting material for "Hi-Life" as you do in scrapping ———"
Evelyn: "Oh, come on, let's start playing."
Cora: "Well, where's Miss Snyder?"
Miss Snyder (entering): "Here I am." (Blows whistle.) "Fall in!"

ACT VI.

DISMISSAL—STUDY HALL

Much noise in entering—a glance from Mr. Lowe—a deathlike silence—announcements—"All right, let's go"—slamming lockers—the front door opened—the day is over—freedom, at last!

Sophomore Totem Pole

Again the hunter's moon was at hand, and the call of the Great Chief was echoing from valley to valley. The time of the council fire was near and the tribes were preparing to assemble. All preparations completed, they journeyed toward Bushi, the site named by the Great Chief for the rendezvous.

Soon were seated around the roaring fire, the four federated tribes, known as the Frosojunsens. Here they would learn from the Great Chief, from the tribal rulers, and from the experienced warriors, the secrets of successful living.

True, the four tribes were of dissimilar age and experiences, yet all were met as brothers, and here together all might learn as friends. But of the four, the Sophomorans claim our greatest interest. Note their stalwart warriors, keen-eyed, alert and well-developed. Only two short years ago they made entrance to the federated tribes. Listen! Their chief is speaking.

"Twice twelve-moons ago, we, the mighty Sophomorans, were the papoose tribe of the Frosojunsens. We chose as our Chief Elysabethe Bobbitt, Warrior John Ball, second chief, and Ferman Lynn as our wampum trader. Our medicine man was Miss Snyder, who taught us much of the code of the Frosojunsens, aided by the Senyors at their annual initiatory council. Many council fires were held along the shores of Avondale. Many noble warriors proclaimed the name of the tribe in sports and trials of the day. Aptly our maidens learned the art of joyful living, learned to sing and play as maidens will.

"After our first nine moons we found our tribe diminished. One brave had journeyed to the Happy Hunting Ground while others left us for unknown lands. These happy nine moons had shown us what it meant to be in the tribe of the mighty Frosojunsens. We had learned many things and being stronger from our trials and happier through our friendship, we were allowed to drop the name of the "papoose tribe" and take up the name of Sophomorans.

"This hunter's moon we chose as our guides, Rodney Boaz, Chieftain; Earl Gordinier, second chief; Lena Huffman to keep the annals of the tribe, and Mary Snell as our wampum trader. Our medicine man was Golden Babcook. As Chief Boaz found it necessary to explore distant lands, our second chief became first chief.

"Feathers were awarded John Ball, Earl Gordinier, and Leland Wilson for athletic prowess while others gained repute along similar lines. The girls had their successes in volleyball and basketball. We have all demonstrated our dramatic ability, and we have led all the tribes in fleetness of mind. With all these serious pursuits we found time to enjoy council fires (coasting), and war-dances (skating). Bound together by friendship's thong, we look for happiness and success in the coming twelve moons."

The Chief's words rang out o'er the prairies. The tribes sat spell-bound at this tale of successful adventure. The wind carried the story of the Sophomorans on with a whisper of joyful prophecy for the Frosojunsens. The fire burned low; the warriors departed; and the hunter's moon looking down on the dying embers saw only its reflection of peace and content.

Zeppelin Tour

The "Freshman Zeppelin, C-56" started on its renowned Round-the-World-Tour on September 3, 1929. Although the fare was four years of perseverence and sportsmanship in everything done, seventy-two yearlings signed up for the trip. Four of the passengers left us, one having decided not to finish the journey of learning. Laura Kingdon transferred to Logansport, Indiana; Mary Jane Millius to Mount Carroll, Illinois, and Floyd Ward to Jacksonville, Illinois. Adeline Roberts dropped her name from our enrollment.

We elected for our crew: Captain, Jesse Kingery (president): First Mate, Ella May Kelley (vice-president); Pilot, Mary Williams (secretary); Mechanic, Robert Fawcett (treasurer), and Engineer, Miss Snyder (sponsor).

Our first stop was at Initiation Mountain near the coast of the internationally known "District of B. H. S." Here our badly disabled engines were repaired by the well known company "Repairs for Freshmen" (known in every High School World as the Mighty Seniors). Since that time our engines seldom cause us any trouble (?).

The next week we entered the land of B. H. S. As it was a part of our schedule to remain at this port for a year, we decided to partake in some of the festivities there. We are glad to say that the Freshmen are represented in every organization to which they are eligible for membership. Our members have taken an active part in G. A. A., in History Club, in the Orchestra and in the Glee Club. Four of our members entered the Orchestra and we helped to make that organization thrive.

Our record in athletics is one of which we are very proud. Early in the season our football players began showing up as possibilities for first and second teams. At the close of the season we boasted of two men on the regular squad—Langley and Young, both of whom give promise of becoming excellent players in the 1930 season. We were also able to place a few men on the second team and they, too, made a good showing.

In basket ball Langley again walked up to a berth on the first team. "Lefty" Young made a dependable man on the second squad. Doubtless we will hear more of them next year.

As physical education is required of all Freshmen girls, the class was well represented in gymnasium work and in sports. A large number became members of the Girls' Athletic Association. In order that they might learn some of the business routine of the association, Miss Snyder helped them to organize a Junior G. A. A. with officers, committees and duties patterned after the regular G. A. A. While not an official organization it proved very interesting and worth while.

The Freshies had the honor of presenting the first assembly program, on November 20, which we think impressed even the Seniors.

We shall always cherish the memories of this first year at our first port and we hope that B. H. S. may be proud of her Freshmen. We are looking forward hopefully to the time when we shall be solemn, serious, studious Sophomores.

Orchestra

Through the combined efforts of Mr. White, Mr. Hendrickson, and the student body, we were able to organize a high school orchestra. While, in the past years, we had a small high school orchestra which played for assembly singing, it did not meet our needs. Arrangements were made with Mr. Hendrickson to direct an orchestra composed of any interested high school students. As a result our ten-piece orchestra has been a success, appearing at games, parties, assembly programs and other functions of the school. The student body greatly appreciate the splendid spirit they have shown throughout the year.

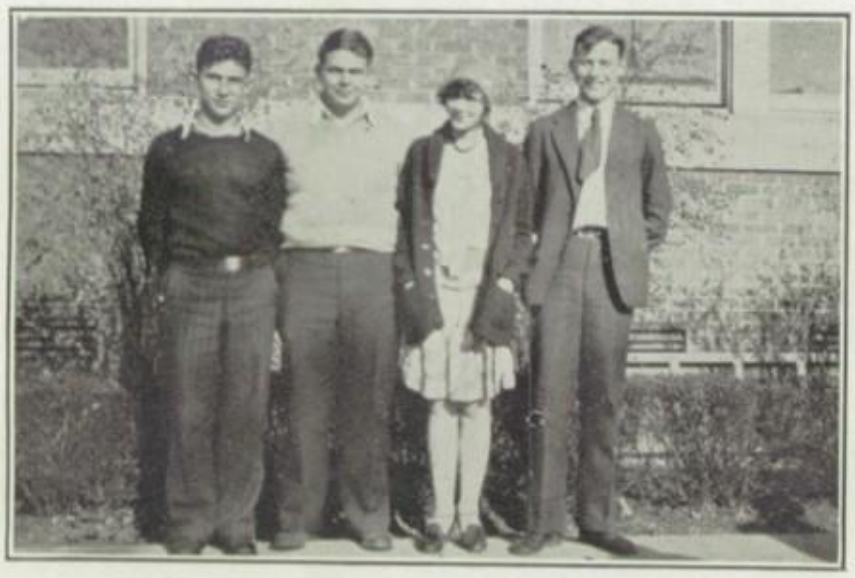
The History Club, composed of the members of all the history classes, was a new organization this year. Several meetings were held and historical characters were reported upon. Usually after these reports there followed a program of entertainment. One of the first meetings of the year took the form of a potluck supper followed by a meeting and a program.



Many parties were held and thoroughly enjoyed. One benefit derived from these parties besides the amusement was the art of taking care of oneself and of shouldering responsibility.

On October 17 a High School Carnival was held in the gymnasium with a minstrel in the assembly room. The public was invited and responded, bringing a splendid sum of money, some of which was used in purchasing reference books for the library.

The Girls' Athletic Association, organized in 1926 and affiliated with the Illinois League of High School Girls' Athletic Associations in 1927, is one of the most efficient organizations of the school. Membership is open to any high school girl earning one hundred points, showing a high standard of sportsmanship and making a "C-" scholastic standing. By a point system, local and state awards may be earned: 600 points—a small B; 1200 points—a large B; 1600 points—the State League Award; 2000 points—the State League Emblem. All G. A. A. organizations in the League use the same point system enabling a member to transfer from one to another without loss of points. While G. A. A. encourages physical development, it also provides for the development of character, initiative, leadership and dependability. Through the stands at football and basketball games the organization meets its financial obligations. The social activities of the year have taken the form of initiation parties, hikes, a skating party, a day at Avondale, and the annual banquet. A new project undertaken by the G. A. A. this year was the awarding of a trophy to the Best-All-Around-Girl in the Senior Class, this being interpreted to mean the Senior girl living up to the highest mental, physical and spiritual standards as judged by a committee of faculty and student members. This will be an annual award and an objective toward which all high school girls will work.

Le Cercle Francaise

President.....Erna Mann

Several years ago a French Club was organized in Bushnell High School and has continued to be an outstanding organization. However, this year Le Cercle Francaise was reorganized under a new constitution, new officers, and a new sponsor.

The purpose of Le Cercle Francaise was to gain more knowledge of the French language, customs, habits, education, and ideals, than could be had in the regular French Class.

During the first semester only the French II students were eligible for membership, but the French I students became members during the second semester. An educational meeting was held at the regular class period, once every two weeks, and a more social meeting was held one evening each month.

The French I students were entertained on the 19th of December at a general meeting. A short business meeting was held, followed by various French games. Light refreshments were served later in the evening.

The annual banquet was held in February, in the Domestic Science Department of the High School. At this time the first year students became members of Le Cercle Francaise, making a total enrollment of 30.

An interesting feature of the club work this year was corresponding with French boys and girls. The letters received from France gave much informative and educational material.

With the increased interest in this department of our school, we expect Le Cercle Francaise to be one of the most popular organizations in 1930-31.

The Girls' Glee Club has been an energetic organization for several years, and girls who have been members have derived much benefit from the companionship as well as the music. This year the club reorganized under new officers and a new sponsor. There was a total enrollment of 45 members.

Wednesday evenings at 4:15 roll was called by the secretary and there followed an hour in which the girls enjoyed singing together as they gained a deeper appreciation of good music. There, too, they became better acquainted with composers.

During the first semester the girls learned several Christmas carols and sang them around the Christmas tree for the student body at the high school Christmas party.

After Christmas vacation a different type of music was taken up and through earnest co-operation, the girls thoroughly enjoyed their year's work.

Home Economics Club

President .....Ruth Rebman
Vice-President .....Elizabeth Bobbitt
Secretary.....Roseanna Snell
Treasurer.....Annie Geeves
Sponsor .....Miss Grove

The Home Economics Club is a comparatively new organization, being organized by the 1928-29 cooking class under the supervision of Mrs. Adams, becoming in its first year a member of the American Home Economics Association. At a luncheon held in the spring of 1929 officers were elected for the following year.

Originally, only cooking girls could be members and such topics as were of interest to them were taken up. Some of these topics were table etiquette, serving rules, and cooking secrets.

This year, however, the sewing girls were included and the topic of interior decoration was surveyed. It was very interesting and worth while.

Starting with floors as the beginning point and introducing each separate phase in its turn, the secret of making the home beautiful was learned and enjoyed. One important point learned was the difference between a house and a home.

In all, the 1929-30 Home Economics Club proved very enjoyable as well as instructive.

Industrial Arts Club

President.....Bliss Soule
Vice-President.....John Rouse
Secretary-Treasurer.....Olin Clark
Sponsor.....Mr. Rutledge

During the past two years the Manual Training Department of our School has shown a marked improvement in interest as well as in finished products. A visit to the homes of the manual training boys would reveal many proofs of this in the way of cedar chests, sewing cabinets, magazine racks, bookshelves, end tables, and other useful pieces of furniture.

To further a spirit of fellowship in this department an Industrial Arts Club was organized this year; any high school student having taken work in this department being eligible to membership. Soon the enrollment numbered thirty-five, and all were anxious to set the club machinery into motion.

Initiation came first on the program and soon each Industrial Arts boy might be identified from afar by his badge of membership.

Aside from initiation and other general good times the most outstanding club event of the year was the box supper and minstrel given to obtain funds for shop improvements. "The Coontown Thirteen Club" was the feature of the evening. The sale of cakes, pies and sandwiches contributed toward the financial success of the evening.

With the completion of the present successful year, we are hopeful of a better club next year.

Agriculture Club

President ..... Elbert Crowl
Vice-President ..... Bliss Soule
Secretary ..... Burnette Huffman
Treasurer ..... Albert Havens
Sponsor ..... Mr. Lowe

To meet the needs of the boys of Bushnell High School, a department of agriculture was established in the fall of 1928, open to Junior and Senior boys. Mr. Lowe was chosen as instructor and after a few weeks of study he organized the group into an Agriculture Club, all members of the agriculture class having the privilege of being members. This club was organized to bring to the boys a broader knowledge of agriculture.

Regular meetings were deferred until the football season was over, then they were held once a month. At these meetings the boys gave reports pertaining to new ideas and experiments in agriculture taken from current literature at hand. Annually the boys invited their fathers to an agriculture banquet. The speaker of the evening was some outstanding agricultural leader. The boys, too, gave interesting talks.

Various trips were taken to places of interest, as the Macomb Dairy, the Canton Plow Factory, the several retail stores, and the nearby farms. The trip of special interest this year was to the International Harvester Shops in Chicago.

In order that all would have an equal expense, the finances were taken care of by a benefit picture show.

Although the club is comparatively new it has proved beneficial to its members and is the foundation of a Vocational Agricultural Course which will probably be established in Bushnell High School in the near future.

For several years we have supplied a column of high school news to the local papers. However, this year the Juniors, who are a peppy bunch, decided that such a growing institution as our high school warranted more than that. After several class meetings they decided upon a four page paper to be published every two weeks.

The Juniors offered a free year's subscription to the member of the student body submitting the best name. Several were offered and it was decided that Harriet Birdsall's suggestion, "Bushnell Hi-Life," was the most appropriate.

After these preliminaries real work began and on November 5, the first issue was put before the student body. It was a most interesting issue and was well received. The following issues were all very good and highly delightful to the readers. The Christmas number had an especially worthwhile article by the editor. Each issue contained an editorial, always appropriate, some space devoted to athletics, and the various activities of the classes and organizations. There were many personal jokes on members of the staff and student body and faculty but all were good-natured and were met in a sportsmanlike manner.

The small subscription price of $1.00 did not wholly cover expenses and so the "Hi-Life" staff sponsored three one-act plays in order to supply the deficiency.

That the work might be successfully carried on next year, the 1931 staff received preliminary training during the second semester and we feel confident of the future success of the "Hi-Life."

Athletics

A. GOLDEN BABCOOK

During the past four years Coach Babcook has guided the destiny of Bushnell High School athletics. "Colden" came to us from Bradley, where he held high honors in his athletic career. He has developed an increased interest in athletics in our high school, and has promoted a closer comradeship and higher standard of sportsmanship among the members of the teams. His agreeable disposition and unending patience have won for him the confidence and affection of the boys of the entire school.

The Value of Athletics

Athletics have a very definite place in the high school, not only for the pleasure the boy gets from playing the game, but for the things he learns.

The chief value of athletics is that it is one of the great character builders. A boy on an athletic team learns several valuable lessons. He learns to be self-reliant, to stand on his own feet, and take the knocks. He learns to think and act quickly, to win modestly and lose graciously. He learns to be a good sportsman and not a cheap sport. He learns to be honest, fair and square with his team-mates and associates. He learns the game of give and take without grumbling or losing the spirit of fair play.

Chas. Schwab once said, "If I had to choose between two boys of equal ability, one with athletic training and one without, I would choose the athlete every time."

Summing all these facts into one general thought, athletics give to the boys that valuable training that he will get from no other source. —A. G. B.

GALE KANE Fullback

Through yard gaining, and accurate punting and passing, "Vince" made himself nearly invaluable; his speed and plunging ability, more than a few times, gained yards. A great deal of confidence was placed in "Vince."

GERALD MORROW Left End

Morrow played a fast, spirited game that made his end of the line a hot corner. The team could always rely upon Morrow's playing his best.

EARL GORDINIER Right End

This was the first year "Gordie" turned out for football. In proving himself cool-headed as well as a good fighter, he displayed the indispensable qualities of a football player. Much is expected of him next year.

JOHN BALL Right Tackle

"Johnnie" was known as "the line-breaking tackle." It is true that when "Johnnie" hit a line it usually broke. His weight, added to his endurance, made him an important unit in the line.

CLYDE PESTLE Left Tackle

Pestle's former experience in football and his own love for the game combined to make him a dangerous opponent. He brought both perseverance and sportsmanship to the team.

JOHN ROUSE Center

"Tiny" filled the arduous position of center splendidly. His ability in placing the ball accurately and in opening up the opponents' line made him an important man on the team.

LLOYD YOUNG Halfback

"Lefty" assisted in covering the backfield very admirably. "Lefty's" mettle was often tested, and he seldom failed to respond. His speed was a valuable yard gainer.

OLIN CLARK Left Guard

For two years Clark has shown skill at left guard. This year he proved himself a true lover of the game and a dependable captain.

JOHN DIMMITT Quarterback

Despite his being a first year man, John has proven himself a fast thinking and fast playing quarterback. John should play excellent football as quarterback and as next year's captain.

DONALD LANGLEY Right Halfback

Langley's first attempt at football was certainly successful. Beside the good work he gave to the team this year, he showed the making for a future football player that any team might be proud to have in its ranks.

BLISS SOULE Halfback

Soule was noted for his wide end runs. He played a fast, nervy game until he was taken off the team as the result of a broken ankle.

WILLIAM WALTHERS Right Guard

"Bill" played a consistent game of football as guard. His quiet, persistent efforts went far in encouraging his team-mates. He filled a difficult position well.

LUTHER MARCUM Quarterback

Marcum was also a new man to play quarterback. He was a hard player, and, through his never failing courage, he exerted a favorable influence upon the rest of the team.

GEORGE ALEXANDER Manager

"Alec" began the season engineering the team from quarterback, but, due to ill health, he was forced to give up playing and was transferred to the position of manager where he proved valuable.

GOLDEN BABCOOK Coach

For four years "Golden" has shown his love and confidence for the teams with which he worked in Bushnell High. He has striven, not only to develop a winning team, but to build up higher ideals of sportsmanship.

Football Review

"Golden" called for recruits in September, and he received a warm reply. Upon checking up, it was found that only five lettermen had reported for duty. However, the squad soon proved that, what it lacked in experience, it was more than willing to make up in loyalty and willingness.

RUSHVILLE 12—BUSHNELL 0

Both hope and uncertainty swelled the hearts of loyal Bushnellites during the Rushville game. The game was fast, both teams playing hard, clean football, but the superior weight of the Rushville team soon began to tell on the Bushnell boys. Bushnell played splendidly, but when the final whistle blew, Rushville was in the lead with a score, 12-0.

CORPUS CHRISTI 0—BUSHNELL 25

In the very first of the Corpus Christi game, Bushnell tore up the opposing defense by line plunges twice, and scored a touchdown each time. The Bushnell boys had acquired experience and confidence since their first game, and before the end of the game Bushnell added 10 more points to the score which then read, 25-0.

COLCHESTER 0—BUSHNELL 6

Colchester was our next opponent, and she, too, yielded a victory. The two teams battered each other to no avail for over two quarters. In the third quarter Bushnell plunged through the Colchester line and pushed the ball over the goal line for a touchdown. The fourth quarter was a deadlock, the ball going from one team to the other on yards. The game ended with the score standing 6-0 in favor of Bushnell.

BEARDSTOWN 0—BUSHNELL 2

Bushnell went to Beardstown with a spirit that prophesied "victory." Beardstown showed the better playing of the two teams, but in the second quarter Bushnell blocked a Beardsown punt, and scored on a safety. Bushnell had the best of the rest of the game, but did not quite succeed in scoring again, having the score 2-0 in favor of Bushnell.

INDUSTRY 13—BUSHNELL 0

With true "industry" Bushnell's streak of victories was interrupted by Industry High. Bushnell fought hard, and succeeded in holding their opponents down to two touchdowns. The spirit of the team was fine, but their playing ability seemed at low ebb on that day. The final score stood 13-0 with Industry in the lead.

MACOMB 26—BUSHNELL 0

The second defeat seemed in some degree to have unnerved the Bushnell boys. They entered the field against Macomb for the biggest game of the season with less confidence than they should have had. Macomb played a splendid grade of football, and although Bushnell put up a stubborn fight, the game ended in the possession of Macomb, 26-0.

BLANDINSVILLE 21—BUSHNELL 6

"Bushnell scored on Blandinsville!" Even defeat was not so bitter, for Bushnell was the first team of the season to score on Blandinsville's team. After the first quarter, in which Bushnell scored, Blandinsville had the best of the game. The end came with Blandinsville in the lead, 21-6.

LEWISTOWN 0—BUSHNELL 14

Bushnell, with true "thanksgiving," ended her season with a victory on "Turkey-day." Bushnell left Lewistown's field in possession of a hard won victory—a clean, fast game which ended 14-0.

Bushnell High always will appreciate the sportsmanship and hard work which her boys put forth in an effort to uphold her athletic record, and she trusts that her teams will always leave behind them as clean a record as the boys of 1930.

Football Seconds

Bushnell High School is very proud of its battling second team which did much fighting and hard work for the making of the first squad. They have shown the spirit and sportsmanship which has always been the motto of our teams.

In their two games of the season—Cuba and LaHarpe—they showed much skill in playing the game and well deserved the two victories.

Many of their men will be in our ranks for the 1931 season and we are expecting a winning team.

Basketball Letter Men

CAPTAIN GEORGE ALEXANDER Forward

"Alec," having been disappointed in football because of ill health, began the basketball season enthusiastically. He may remember with pride his career as captain.

WILLIAM WALTHERS Guard

With last year's experience, "Bill" knew the game through and through. His accurate shooting and consistent guarding made him one of the team's best men.

JOHN BALL Guard

Few players showed more persevering fight than did "Johnnie." He always made up in determination for what he lacked in speed.

ROBERT CADWALADER Forward

"Bob" was a new man this year, and his accurate shooting promises him a brilliant career next season.

LELAND WILSON Forward

Leland handled the ball with all the speed and accuracy that a good forward must possess.

WOODROW WELCH Center

"Woodie" shone as this year's star. His clever head-work and speed, added to his dependability, made him the mainstay of the team.

DONALD LANGLEY Forward

"Don" is only a Freshman, but nevertheless he made the team and accomplished some very nice basketball playing.

BURNETTE HUFFMAN Guard

Burnette proved himself a valuable asset to the team. His shooting was accurate and his footwork fast.

REX STEFFEY Guard

As a guard Rex knew the game well, and his accurate shooting added greatly to his value to the team.

ROBERT NORCROSS Forward

This was "Pude's" second year in basketball, and he brought to the team a year's experience as well as a keen desire to play.

JOHN ROUSE Manager

Being the manager of a basketball team is a rigorous task, but "Tiny" filled the position to the satisfaction of all.

Basketball Seconds

The Blue and Maroon Seconds were successful in winning five of the nine games played this season. Several of the men on the team were first year men and showed up well. They displayed a fighting spirit which speaks well for the school.

The season opened with a victory over Industry followed by a one-point loss to Macomb. Victories over Blandinsville and Avon were staged next. A return game with Avon resulted in a second loss by one point. Blandinsville and Industry again bowed to the Blue and Maroon but Bardolph succeeded in winning two games at the close of the season.

We are fortunate in having many of these players back with us next year and they will be a great help to a successful basketball season.

Basketball Review

Coach Babcook opened the 1930 season with class practice followed by a class tournament. This brought out much prospective material for the regular teams. While several old members continued to hold positions, we were glad to see new men on the floor, for as we lose some by graduation, the future of the team lies in the strength of its new material.

While the schedule of the season's games shows a minority of victories, many losses were by close margins. The team played a strong defensive game and worked like a well-oiled machine, each game a hard fought one, always interesting to the crowd who gave loyal support throughout the season.

Track

Handicapped by not having an athletic field, Bushnell High has been forced to count track as one of its minor sports. However, we were able to have a small track team in 1929 and to make a fair showing at the meets. We were represented by M. Lybarger, G. Pensinger, W. Slavens, D. Mathis, D. Orum, R. Kirtley, G. Alexander, B. Soule, and C. Pestle, and results were as follows:

LEWISTOWN MEET

Lybarger—First, 50 yard dash; second, 100 yard dash.

Pensinger—Second, 440 yard dash; third, 220 yard dash.

Slavens—Second, running broad jump.

Kirtley—Second, low hurdles.

Alexander—First, 440 yard dash; second, 220 yard dash; third, broad jump.

COUNTY MEET

Alexander—Third, 440 yard dash.
Soule—Second, 220 yard dash.
Lybarger—Second, 50 yard dash.
Pestle—Third, javelin.
Relay Team — (Alexander, Kirtley, Lybarger, Soule)—First, relay.

TRI-COUNTY MEET, LA HARPE

Lybarger—First, 100 yard dash.
Soule—Third, 220 yard dash.

Letter Club

The Letter Club was founded in 1928 and has been a successful organization for the past three years. Its membership is composed of the coaches and managers of the various teams and all lettermen of the school. This year's enrollment numbers near 30. George Alexander acts as president, Bliss Soule as vice-president, and Olin Clark as treasurer. The club sponsors the annual athletic banquet, conducts initiations for its new members and strives to establish comradeship and good sportsmanship in high school athletics.

FAYE SNYDER

"For when the one great Scorer comes
To write against your name,
He writes not that you won or lost
But how you played the game."

That these lines may express to Miss Snyder an appreciation of the untiring effort she has put forth in teaching them to play the game, is the wish of every high school girl.

Girls' Physical Education

A changing world is demanding of a woman something more than just to eat, sleep and work. We of the present generation must meet the onsweeping current of invention, competition and development with a finer and more balanced attainmnt. This is partly met in our high schools by Girls' Physical Education which was at first not tolerated, next was tolerated but uncontrolled and undirected, and now is encouraged, directed and in a large measure controlled.

Physical Education properly administered is a great educational force. It offers opportunity for honesty, through a disdain for unfair advantage; discipline, by observance and respect for authority; mental alertness, by learning to act decisively and effectively under stress of surroundings; physical alertness, by training instant response to mental direction; mental development, by forming dependable solution of problems; physical development, through strengthening and building the whole body; self-control, by suppression of anger, jealousy, revenge, and disdain; sportsmanship, in learning to accept victory or defeat with equal equanimity and courtesy by expecting it under all conditions. All these and more are component parts of a modern high school girl's physical education program.

In Bushnell High School we strive to offer the above opportunities through formal gymnasium exercises, marching, folk, character and clog dances, apparatus work, tumbling and pyramid building, games of low organization, games of higher organization, such as: volleyball, basketball, indoor baseball and archery, track and field.

The G. A. A. is an association of the State League sponsored by the Girls' Physical Education. Here opportunity is given for a variety of physical activities, an increase in possibilities for participation, tending to engender ideals of health, sportsmanship and leadership, to encourage their promotion and to develop efficiency by instruction in laws of health the conditions that promote physical and mental efficiency. The objectives are carried out through three definite channels, namely, a Point System, Play Days, and Summer Camps.

We are recognizing the educational value of Girls' Physical Education and are coming to make it a means, not an end. This objective governs the Physical Education Department of Bushnell High School.—F. S.

Hiking

"There's a long, long trail," the hikers thought when they started to tramp the country roads; whistling, singing, and talking. Miss Van Schoick, the faithful leader, was always ready to hike into the wide open spaces with the happy and joyous band and to stop along the road and tell something very interesting about flowers, birds, insects and other of nature's children. Hiking to some people seems useless, but the girls in high school seem to think that hikes are good for that "school girl complexion" especially those which are called at six-thirty in the morning. The weather was favorable for hiking this year so we had the enjoyment of returning home without mud-spattered stockings and additional weight on our feet. Though some returned home with blisters and stiff joints, after a night of rest, the one concerned was ready for another hike.

Archery

Archery was a new sport in high school this year, but all girls showed a marked interest. We had the joy of making a new mat and painting the pretty colors on the covering before playing because the mice enjoyed themselves with our first one. Everyone wanted to be a keen marksman aiming for form and the bulls-eye. However, the girls never gave up hope if they didn't hit the mark. The weather permitting we assembled in the East Park for practice. Passers-by learned to dodge our arrows—no casualties being reported. The season ended with a spirit and interest that will probably promote this novel sport for next year.

Volley-Ball

Volley-ball, as usual, was the beginning sport of the season. Many girls reported to the classroom for roll call and lectures regarding the rules and regulations of the game. Competition was a dominant characteristic especially between the classes, but all girls, though winners or losers, wore a smile. To successfully bat the ball over the net, placing it beyond the eager hands of the opponents, was a much sought after yet generally unattained skill. A class tournament resulted in the Sophomores receiving first place, the Seniors second, and the Freshmen third. Our period was not long enough for some lovers of the game, but after the tournament all agreed that volley-ball is a sport for someone who has excessive vim, vigor, and vitality.

Gymnasium

If walls could talk, what a story our gymnasium would tell of the girls' physical education classes! "A key turned in the lock—a door flung open—an excited group of girls rushing in—confusion of dressing—a sharp 'Fall in!'—silence—roll call and then work, play, laughter until 'That's all—dress!'" On each Monday, Wednesday and Friday girls' physical education classes were conducted by Miss Snyder. The work was varied and always interesting. Marching, dances, stunts, buck work, pyramid building and games called forth a keen competition among the girls. Many of these events were given in the public demonstration in March. Grades were given in physical education this year and were an added incentive toward better health and sportsmanship.

All Freshmen were required to enroll in this work. Upperclassmen who cared to enter were given this privilege. After the preliminary heart examinations and health certificates, classes were begun.

Baseball

"Strike one!" Baseball season again! True, the ball is too large to twirl, and the diamond is somewhat smaller than one usually sees, but the enthusiasm of the players more than redeems this. Under the supervision of Miss Snyder, teams were organized during spring quarter. Practice was held twice each week, in the gymnasium or in the East Park as the weather permitted. Sportsmanship, team work, and muscle-building exercise came with the practice. Next to basketball, baseball ranks in popularity as an organized sport, and fun producer.

Basketball

The basketball season opened with a large enrollment and a surplus of enthusiasm. Each class was well represented; some with enough material for two full teams. A series of lectures on rules, teamwork, signals, etc., preceded the actual organization and practice. Two hours' practice was held twice each week under the supervision of Miss Snyder, assisted by Miss Turner. At the close of the season a class tournament was held resulting in the first place going to the Seniors, second to the Freshmen, and third to the Sophomores. This gives the Seniors the record of holding the championship during their entire high school career, a record of which they may be justly proud.

Tennis

Not having courts, we play our tennis in the gymnasium. The season opens during spring quarter and following several weeks of practice, comes a tournament. Class lectures and rules and playing precede the season's practice. That more girls may play, special hours are arranged during the day, when, with faculty supervision, the gymnasium is available for practice. While the field is very limited, it provides each entrant with the basic rules of the game and gives her sufficient playing that she may develop her game during the months of vacation, should the opportunity present itself.

Track and Field

Many have the idea that track and field events are for boys alone. However, the girls of Bushnell High School are not accepting that theory. Spring quarter also begins the track and field season, work being done in the park or the gymnasium two evenings each week. Dashes, relays, broad jump, high jump, and ball throwing are the principal events.

Physical Education Demonstration

The custom of giving a public demonstration of the work carried on in the girls' Physical Education Department was continued this year. In March, under the auspices of the G. A. A., tickets were sold and an appreciative audience witnessed a very successful portrayal of the girls' work. To an audience unacquainted with this department of our school, the feats of our girls were astounding. To the faculty and students it gave a feeling of pride in the co-operation and spirit shown by the girls and a sense of gratitude for the faithful work of Miss Snyder.

The events of the demonstration were of the following types:

1. Marching.
2. Formal exercises.
3. Tumbling.
4. Dancing.
5. Apparatus work.
6. Stunts.

Following the announcement of the 1930 "Replica" staff, the executive group began work. The sponsor, Miss Turner; editor, La Rue Spiker; business manager, Olin Clark; art editor, Helen Stambaugh; and literary editor, Erna Mann, met to plan the book, and estimate the year's expenses.

The sale of "Replicas," and advertising seemed the best means of financing the enterprise. This was accomplished under the direction of Esther Waid, sales manager, and George Alexander, advertising manager.

The plans of the book being completed, all other members of the staff began work in earnest. Frances Aten, snapshot editor, was kept busy taking pictures. Lauretta Kessler's calendar was marked with outstanding dates. All social events were recorded by Ethel Mae Smith, society editor, and the organization editor, Mildred Wilson, made a survey of the organizations and their activities.

Interesting notes of the school and class athletics were found in the diaries of Bliss Soule and Lenora Young. The alumni section was taken care of by Annie Greeves. The humorous section was under the supervision of John Rouse.

After the correcting and typing, the copy was sent to the printer. Weeks of anxious waiting ended with the final return of the book.

The staff of 1930 has tried to make it a true picture of the school year and if, sometime in the future, you shall turn its pages and smile at the memories it brings, we shall know our work has been a success.

FRESHMAN INITIATION

"How dear to my heart are the scenes of my Freshman days,
When fond recollections present them to view.
The picnics, the programs, the walk-scrubbing business,
And everything that week that we had to do."

Upperclassmen need not flatter themselves that they have any monopoly on the enjoyment of Freshman Initiation Week.

Though the Freshmen may despise the "wearing of the green," they, and upperclassmen as well, should remember that the original "wearers of the green" were those who wore it as a badge of a united front against their persecutors.

The real, underlying purpose of Freshman Initiation is to unite the Freshmen as those men of old were united. Any Freshman, or for that matter, any upperclassman, who was not a good sport during his or her initiation, has probably heard about it since.

Tuesday of Initiation Week, the Freshmen were instructed to wear a ridiculous costume and carry lunch for two in a tin pail. When noon came, the Freshmen, arrayed in "fancy" dress, stepped out beside their "Senior Buddies." Lunch was eaten in East Park, and there a parade was formed, which went around the square and back to the schoolhouse.

Wednesday, an assembly program was given by the Freshmen. Songs, readings, and instrumental music held the high school spellbound.

Thursday, the weather man took a hand in lightening the burden of Freshman Initiation, when a hard rain washed the schoolhouse walk, thus saving wear and tear on Freshman toothbrushes.

Friday was Judgment Day. Judge Clark tried the cases, and the big, big barrel, softly upholstered in splinters, the object of much patting by the well-worn paddle, received its full share of the culprits. A heart-felt sigh of relief arose from the entire Freshman class when refreshments were announced.

Sandwiches and lollypops completed the welding of East Side, West Side, and country recruits into the united class of 1933.

JUNIOR THEATRE PARTY

The Juniors, being a fun-loving class, decided to have a party. They agreed upon a theatre party and the members of the Faculty were invited. The plans carried through and on September 18, at 6:30 P.M., the group met in front of the high school. When everyone had arrived and was assigned to cars, it was found that Gerald Morrow's Ford was not needed, so, though Miss Grove and Miss Richardson were terribly disappointed we went on without it.

Even the cars with four (?) cylinders were there at 8:30, so we entered the theatre and took seats in the balcony. The picture was, "Words and Music," starring Lois Moran. We enjoyed it very much. Then came boredom for the gentlemen—a fashion show!

The party left the theatre at 11:00 o'clock and we were nearly frozen when we reached the cars, for they were parked about four blocks away.

It rained very hard while we were coming home. Some of the girls in Earl Sutliff's car became alarmed, but Earl has such comforting ways!

We really had a wonderful time and we hope to have another theatre party soon.

G. A. A. KID PARTY

The first party of the Girls' Athletic Association, held in the Home Economics room, was in the form of a "Kid Party." The "little" girls wore cute dresses with bows and frills while the "gentlemen" wore their Sunday suits. The high school orchestra furnished the music to which the gay youth danced. The refreshments of punch and sandwiches seemed to refresh one as soon as he had partaken of them. The dancing proved to be a rare treat to the "kiddies" because the room was filled with gayety, and smiling faces. After a late hour had been reached the tired, but happy "kiddies" started on the way home to enjoy a night's rest.

ALL-SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PARTY

As we came down the stairs to the gymnasium and paused just outside the door we heard the soft strains of "Silent Night, Holy Night." When we opened the door a lovely sight greeted our eyes. The girls of the Glee Club were grouped around a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. The room was dark, except for the colored lights on the tree, which intensified the Christmas spirit shown through the carols.

The lights were turned on and each one present was furnished with a bag of confetti and several rolls of serpentine. At a given signal we threw the serpentine over a low ceiling made of fine wire. All the different colors thrown at once made a very striking picture.

When we had sufficiently enjoyed ourselves, showering each other with confetti, and entagling ourselves in serpentine, we were honored by a visit from Santa. He treated us all to a candy bar, then hurried on to his next home.

Our attention was next turned to the Christmas tree. Names had been exchanged so the tree was adorned with gifts for all, some comical and others attractive. After all the gifts were distributed we departed agreeing that on December 20, 1929, at the High School Christmas Party, we had spent one of the most enjoyable evenings we had known.—R. R.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

On Wednesday evening, February 12, 1930, thirty Seniors accompanied by several faculty members attended a Valentine party given at the home of Virginia Oblander.

The hostesses for the evening had planned a delightful entertainment consisting of ten tables of "Cupids." The high-score prize was won by Frances Aten, and low-score by Miss Hart.

About 10:00 o'clock delicious refreshments were served, in two courses. The food was prepared to represent hearts and was very attractive.

Before we departed each one was presented with a small valentine as a remembrance of the Senior Class party which had proved to be a success.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Banquet given by the Junior Class, in honor of the Senior Class of 1930, was one of the most enjoyable social events of the year.

The colors of the two classes were well carried out and the arrangement of flowers and colors was very beautiful.

The toastmaster, Don Sperry, introduced the speakers, and all of the toasts were enjoyed very much. A splendid program came after a delicious four-course dinner, and though this program was in lighter vein, it was enjoyed, too.

The Seniors will always remember this banquet as one of the most enjoyable events in their high school life.

G. A. A. BOX SUPPER

The Girls' Athletic Association held for their second ceremonial and party, a box supper, in February. The "gentleman" called for his "lady friend" and took her to the box supper, she bringing a gaily decorated box filled with good things to eat. After an impressive ceremonia' which enlarged the organization by eighteen new members, the social part of the evening began. The prize was awarded to two Senior girls for bringing the most artistic box. After the dainty supper, games were played which aroused enthusiasm and competition. The sponsor, Miss Snyder, helped choose the games which were old, but still delightful and enjoyable. After the games the room was set in order and the party ended.

The Hi-Life Plays

"Cabbages," "The Ghost Story," and "The Wedding," three one-act plays sponsored by the Junior Class and directed by Miss Hart and Miss Grove, were given to help finance the school paper.

The following is a brief sketch of the work done by the characters in each play.

"Cabbages" was swept along by the very good work of Bernice Wallick, as Mrs. Grossmiere. Gale Kane, as Mr. Grossmiere, had one of the parts which gave the humor of the play and laughs for the audience. Evelyn Swanson did a clever bit of characterization as "Tildy," and Dorthea Fugate, the friend "Lena," carried a difficult role creditably. Ferrol Endres, the "geneology" man, was letter-perfect in his lines. John Dimmitt's voice was distinct and his work was very pleasing. Winifred Hunt, as the maid, gave a very good account of herself.

"The Ghost Story" was an entirely different type of play. Jessie King, as "Anna," was colorful, and gave sparkle to the performance, which was a decided help. Earl Sutliff, as "George," appeared to be having a terrible time in telling "Anna" just exactly what he wanted to. Other members of the cast were those who came in to spoil "George's" evening with "Anna."

"The Wedding" was presented by an enthusiastic cast, and was very well done. Robert Norcross, as the harassed bridegroom, and Virginia Pappas, as the cool young bride, gave very fine characterizations. James Lybarger, as "Archie," the best man, was good, and Herbert Jones gave a rousing interpretation of the bridegroom's friend. Cora Daugherty, Daisy Davis, and Gilbert Pilling were other members of the cast. This play was decidedly the outstanding one of the three.

"THE ARRIVAL OF KITTY"

"The Arrival of Kitty," the Junior Class play, was presented to an appreciative audience, March 21, 1930, under the direction of Miss Richardson.

CAST

William Winkler	Herbert Jones
Bobbie Baxter	Robert Norcross
Jane	Virginia Pappas
Benjamin More	James Lybarger
Aunt Jane	Bernice Wallick
Ting	Don Sperry
Sam	Gerald Morrow
Kitty	Winifred Hunt
Suzette	Jessie King

The story takes place at the Halcyon House, a hotel in the secluded part of the Catskill Mountains. Bobbie Baxter is in love with Jane but has to overcome many difficulties, such as the dislike of her uncle, William Winkler; contents of a will, and her betrothal to Benjamin More. Bobbie portrayed a very good characterization in overcoming these difficulties, even to the extent of acting as Kitty, and succeeding in getting himself engaged to "Bennie."

William Winkler is secretly in love with Kitty, an actress, but because of his dependency, in a financial way, on Aunt Jane, places the guilt on Bobbie, thus making Aunt Jane believe he is untrue to her. Kitty comes to the Halcyon House, causing great confusion. More is believed to be the man from the Matrimonial Agency and is mistaken by Jane as a "great tragedian." He falls in love with Jane, Kitty, Bob, and at last to meet requirements of the will, is forced to marry Aunt Jane, the old maid.

Ting, the bell-boy in charge of the Halcyon House, shares with Bob all the pleasures and misfortunes of his portrayal of Kitty. Sam, the negro porter, assists Ting in managing the Halcyon. Suzette, the French maid, is of most service to Aunt Jane during her numerous fainting spells.

The play was a success and speaks well of the work of both Miss Richardson and the Junior Class.

"Never Again"—Junior Class Play, 1929

Rufus Fletcher, a retired business man (John Rouse), becomes entangled in an affair with Marie Dupree, a new French maid (Ethel Mae Smith). The discharged maid, Dora (Helen Stambaugh), because of an unjust reference given to her by Fletcher, vows to revenge herself. Learning that he had taken Marie to a ball, Dora keeps Mr. Fletcher under her thumb. His son-in-law, Howard Hunt (Keith Murphy), and his daughter's fiancee, Oliver Pendel (Olin Clark), proceed to get themselves in the mix-up; Howard, almost losing his wife, Ruth (Annie Geeves), and Oliver, his fiancee, Marion (Esther Waid). Much of the comedy is portrayed by Dora's sweetheart, Otto Stein (George Alexander). The jealous Frenchman, Julian Beaulieu (Bliss Soule), causes quite a bit of trouble, also. However, the entire plot soon straightens out upon the entrance of Mrs. Fletcher (Erna Mann) and her two daughters, Ruth and Marion.

Dramatic Director—Miss Turner

Jimmy, Bill, and "Spoofy," after escaping from a German prison camp in 1917 return to headquarters in London to find themselves officially dead—three live ghosts. On arriving at the home of "Old Sweetheart," Jimmy's mother, they learn that they must stay dead, for "Old Sweetheart" has collected on Jimmy's life insurance, Bill is wanted for a bond robbery in the United States, and "Spoofy," suffering from shell-shock, is unable to identify himself.

The next twenty-four hours witness a series of rapidly occurring events. "Old Sweetheart" tries to collect a reward of 1,000 pounds offered for Bill's arrest; Rose Gordon, Bill's American sweetheart, appears on the scene; "Spoofy" disappears, returning with money, jewels and a baby; arrest of the entire family follows; but when "Spoofy" unexpectedly recovers his mind, it is learned that the stolen properties are all his own; that he really is an English lord. Bill learns that through his father's death he is wealthy and free. The play closes with "Old Sweetheart" receiving her reward and the "Three Live Ghosts" very happy spirits.

Declamation—1929

Declamation has always been an outstanding activity in Bushnell High School, and last year we were pleased to see an even larger number of contestants representing the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes. Under the able coaching of Mrs. Tainter, many good readers were developed.

Following the elimination contest, the preliminaries were held. In this contest eight girls and two boys participated. From this group three girls were given places: Ethel Mae Smith, first place; Esther Waid, second place; and La Rue Spiker, third place. John Rouse won first place, and Rodney Boaz second place, in the boys' contest. The two first place winners carried off the honors in the McDonough County Declamatory Meet held in Macomb, thus making Bushnell the county winner for two consecutive years.

The program of the preliminary contest was as follows:

BOYS' CONTEST

"The Coward".....Rodney Boaz
"Geogerphy".....John Rouse

GIRLS' CONTEST

"Her Question-Heir".....Bernice Wallick
"The Madonna of Essex Street".....Mary Jane Haymaker
"The Abandoned Elopement".....Ethel Mae Smith
"Ole Mistis".....La Rue Spiker
"The Littlest Rebel".....Esther Waid
"Bobby Shaftoe".....Erna Mann
"The Wedding of Miss Bray".....Elizabeth Bobbitt
"Cherokee Roses".....Helen Stambaugh

7. We won from Blandinsville.
8. Ouch! My vaccination.
9. Snow, the snow, the beautiful snow! It gives us an afternoon from school.
10. Colchester became our foe.
13. Avon won from our first team but the B. H. S. seconds showed them how.
15-16-17. Those clever little examinations! Team fell a victim to the hypnotism of Macomb.
20. Two new "Freshies." Hope they like us.
21. Did we beat Avon?—and how!
22. The coasting hill furnished diversion for the Freshmen. Just the Freshmen?
23. "Sophs" followed suit.
27. The cooking girls started a cafeteria—quite well patronized.
28. Just another Sophomore.
30. Interesting talk of travels in Europe by Baird Helfrich. Three "Hi-Life" plays: "The Wedding," "Cabbages," "The Ghost Story."

FEBRUARY

4. Girls' basketball tournament. Stretched necks, sore feet, and wonderful tales—the Ag. boys went to Chicago.
5. Visited by two "Lunatics"—Senior Assembly program.

6. Industrial Arts Club had a box supper and gave a play, "The Coontown 13 Club."
12. Chaldean gave a very interesting talk. Seniors observed Valentine's Day at Virginia Oblander's home.
14. "Guilty?" "Not Guilty?" Civics and law classes attended trial in Macomb.
17. Prairie City vanquished us.
19. Banquet Francais.
21. Mister Markley chastised severely!
25. Change in schedule. Long noon hour but we don't mind.
26. Home Economics Club benefit movie, "Marianne."
27-28. Teacher's Institute. Of course we're so sorry.

MARCH

4. Seniors are preparing for graduation. They selected their announcements.
6. Seniors voted upon their play. Very interesting title, "Three Live Ghosts."
7. Impressive talk by a member of the "Flying Squadron."
12. Good behavior, boys and girls, the state inspector and county superintendent have arrived.
13. Fire alarm—but it was a fake again.
14. "Fall in! Right face! Front!"—Girls' Athletic Demonstration.
17. Three cheers for the Freshman-Sophomore basketball team! They presented a trophy to the school.
18. Entertained by the Lombard College Orchestra.
19. Senior play cast announced.
21. "The Arrival of Kitty"—Junior Class Play. Did she get there?

APRIL

1. Oh, look up there! April fool!
5. Why do those April showers have to spoil so many curls?
8. No spring vacation. Gosh!
10. Spring fever epidemic. That's certain!
25. County Declamation and Track Meet in Macomb.

MAY

1. Graduation. So near and yet so far!
2. "Three Live Ghosts." Don't be frightened, it's only the Senior class play.
9. G. A. A. Banquet.
16. Junior-Senior Banquet.
21-24. Final Examinations. Did I pass?
25. Music! Seniors in caps and gowns! Baccalaureate.
26. Class day. "Replicas." All-Round Senior Girl Trophy awarded. Two more colors on the hatchet!
27. Commencement. It's all over now.

Mr. White, when being examined by the school board, was asked the following question: "Do you think the world is round or flat?"

"Well," said Mr. White, as he scratched his head in deep thought, "Some people think one way and some another, but I'll teach either round or flat, just as the parents please."

Brilliant Senior: "Why can't they hang a man with a wooden leg?"
Puzzled Freshie: "Search me, why?"
Senior: "Because they use a rope."

SECRET AMBITIONS OF THE SENIORS

Mary Jane Haymaker: To star in the Follies.
Olin Clark: To be successful in love.
Helen Dixon: To open a house for retired spinsters.
Cleo Weaver: To run a beauty shop in Checkrow.
Bliss Soule: To become a vaudeville artist.
Martin Cox: To be a Longfellow.
John Rouse: To be "tiny."
Frances Aten: To use a rolling pin.
Woodrow Welch: To be a gangster.
Isyl Spangler: To master a motorcycle.
James Silberer: To be serious and dignified.
Isabelle Rouse: To get a day ahead.
Anna Shumaker: To act grown up.
Esther Waid: To "talk as much as I want to."
Rex Steffey: To make the honor roll.

Alec: "I don't know which girl to take to Galesburg tonight."
Woody: "Why don't you toss up?"
Alec: "I did, but it didn't come out right."

LATIN

All dead who wrote it;
All dead who spoke it:
All die who learn it;
Blessed be the dead—
They earned it.

Miss Van: "Esther, of what use is cowhide?"
Esther: "It is usually used to keep the cows together."

Pat: "Did you hear about the Swede who thought that a basketball coach was a vehicle with four wheels?"

Mike: "Ha, ha! No, Pat, how many wheels does the bally thing have?"

John Rouse (selling magazines): "How would you like a 'Woman's Home Companion?' "

Old Maid: "I have been dying for one; come right in."

WHO AM I?

I make appearance twice each month in a black and white dress of the latest print.

I bring hope to the students, bouquets to the faculty, jokes to those who have nothing else to read and anguish to those responsible for me.

I record the success of cupid.

I support the team—shout their victories and whisper their defeats.

I know as little news and as much scandal as your neighbor, but am much more easily thrown out.

I nod at eighth graders, smile at underclassmen and agree with the Seniors.

In brief—I am the "HI-LIFE."

Mr. Lowe (in Economics class): "Look at the list of luxuries bought each year in the United States."

Cleo Weaver: "Well, only $500,000,000 is spent for gum."

Rex Steffey: "Yes, but that's because it lasts the longest."

Student: "Mr. White, can a person be punished for something he hasn't done?"

Mr. White: "No, why?"

Student: "Well, I havn't done my Latin lesson."

Teacher: "Can you give a date that will be well known in history?"

Ferman: "Yes, all of Miss Grove's dates will be known in High School History."

Gale Kane to Butch Walthers: "I met the keenest girl last night."

Butch: "Yes, I suppose she's another girl you've fallen for."

Gale: "Oh, no, they always fall for me."

Miss Richardson: "Annie, give the results of the War of 1850."
Annie: "Well, it resulted in a compromise."

Bliss: "My girl's like an almond bar."
Alec: "How's that?"
Bliss: "Sweet, but nutty."

INQUIRING REPORTER

"What do you like about B. H. S.?"

Harold Hall: The fair maids that infest our corridors.
Erna Mann: Anything but books.
Virginia Pappas: Vacations, of course.
Ruth Rebman: The diploma I'm getting.
Jess Kingery: The front door going out.
Gale Kane: Me.
Ralph Markley: I do not choose to tell.
Bill Walthers: The Liberty Bell at four.
Paul Roark: Caesar and my pony.
Dick Sperry: Saturdays and Sundays.

Evelyn Hinman: The mice in the laboratory.
Marian Morris: Red headed boys.
Ferrol Endres: Brown eyes, and curly hair.
Geo. Alexander: Home Economics Department at Christmas time.
Winnie Hunt: Big B's for my sweater.

Miss Hart gave her classes a test in which she asked them to name five of Shakespeare's plays. Among the titles received were these: "King Liar," "A Merchant of Venus," "Old Fellow," "McBath," "Omelet."

Elb: "Did you ever row a bicycle?"
Rex: "You don't row a bicycle; you row a boat."
Elb: "That's funny; I rode a bicycle."

Miss Knowlton: "Pall means anything that is old or stale."
Evelyn Swanson: "Is that the reason they have pallbearers?"

To Jimmy Silberer, leaning against radiator in office:
Mr. White: "Jimmy, which would be the hotter, a kick or the radiator?"
Jimmy (looking up very thoughtfully): "I'll take the radiator."

Teacher: "Johnny, use a sentence with the word deceit in it."
Johnny: "When you get tired take de seat."

Miss Knowlton: "Jessie, will you please stop talking, you are disturbing the class."
Jessie King: "Why, Miss Knowlton, I wasn't talking, I was just whispering."

Miss Snyder: "Freshmen, I want you people to learn the rules of cleanliness. Don, how many collars a week do you wear?"

Don: "Do you mean how many weeks do I wear a collar?"

Steep to Frances (after marriage): "I try to brighten up the things around here, don't I?"

Frances: "I'll say you do, you're just like a lamp, you go out every night."

OVERHEARD AT BOBBIT'S

"Just a minute. I want to comb my hair."

"I take awful pictures anyway."

"Yes, I broke the camera."

"Aren't these proofs horrible?"

"Gee, those flatter you."

"I'll have mine taken over."

"Let's see—a dozen of this one and a half-dozen of that one—no, I mean the other way around—well, better give me a dozen of each."

"Do I look like that?"

"Is that the one I ordered finished?"

"Aren't her pictures sweet?"

"Moisten your lips, please."

Olin: "And why do you call me Pilgrim?"
Helen: "Well, every time you call you make a little progress."

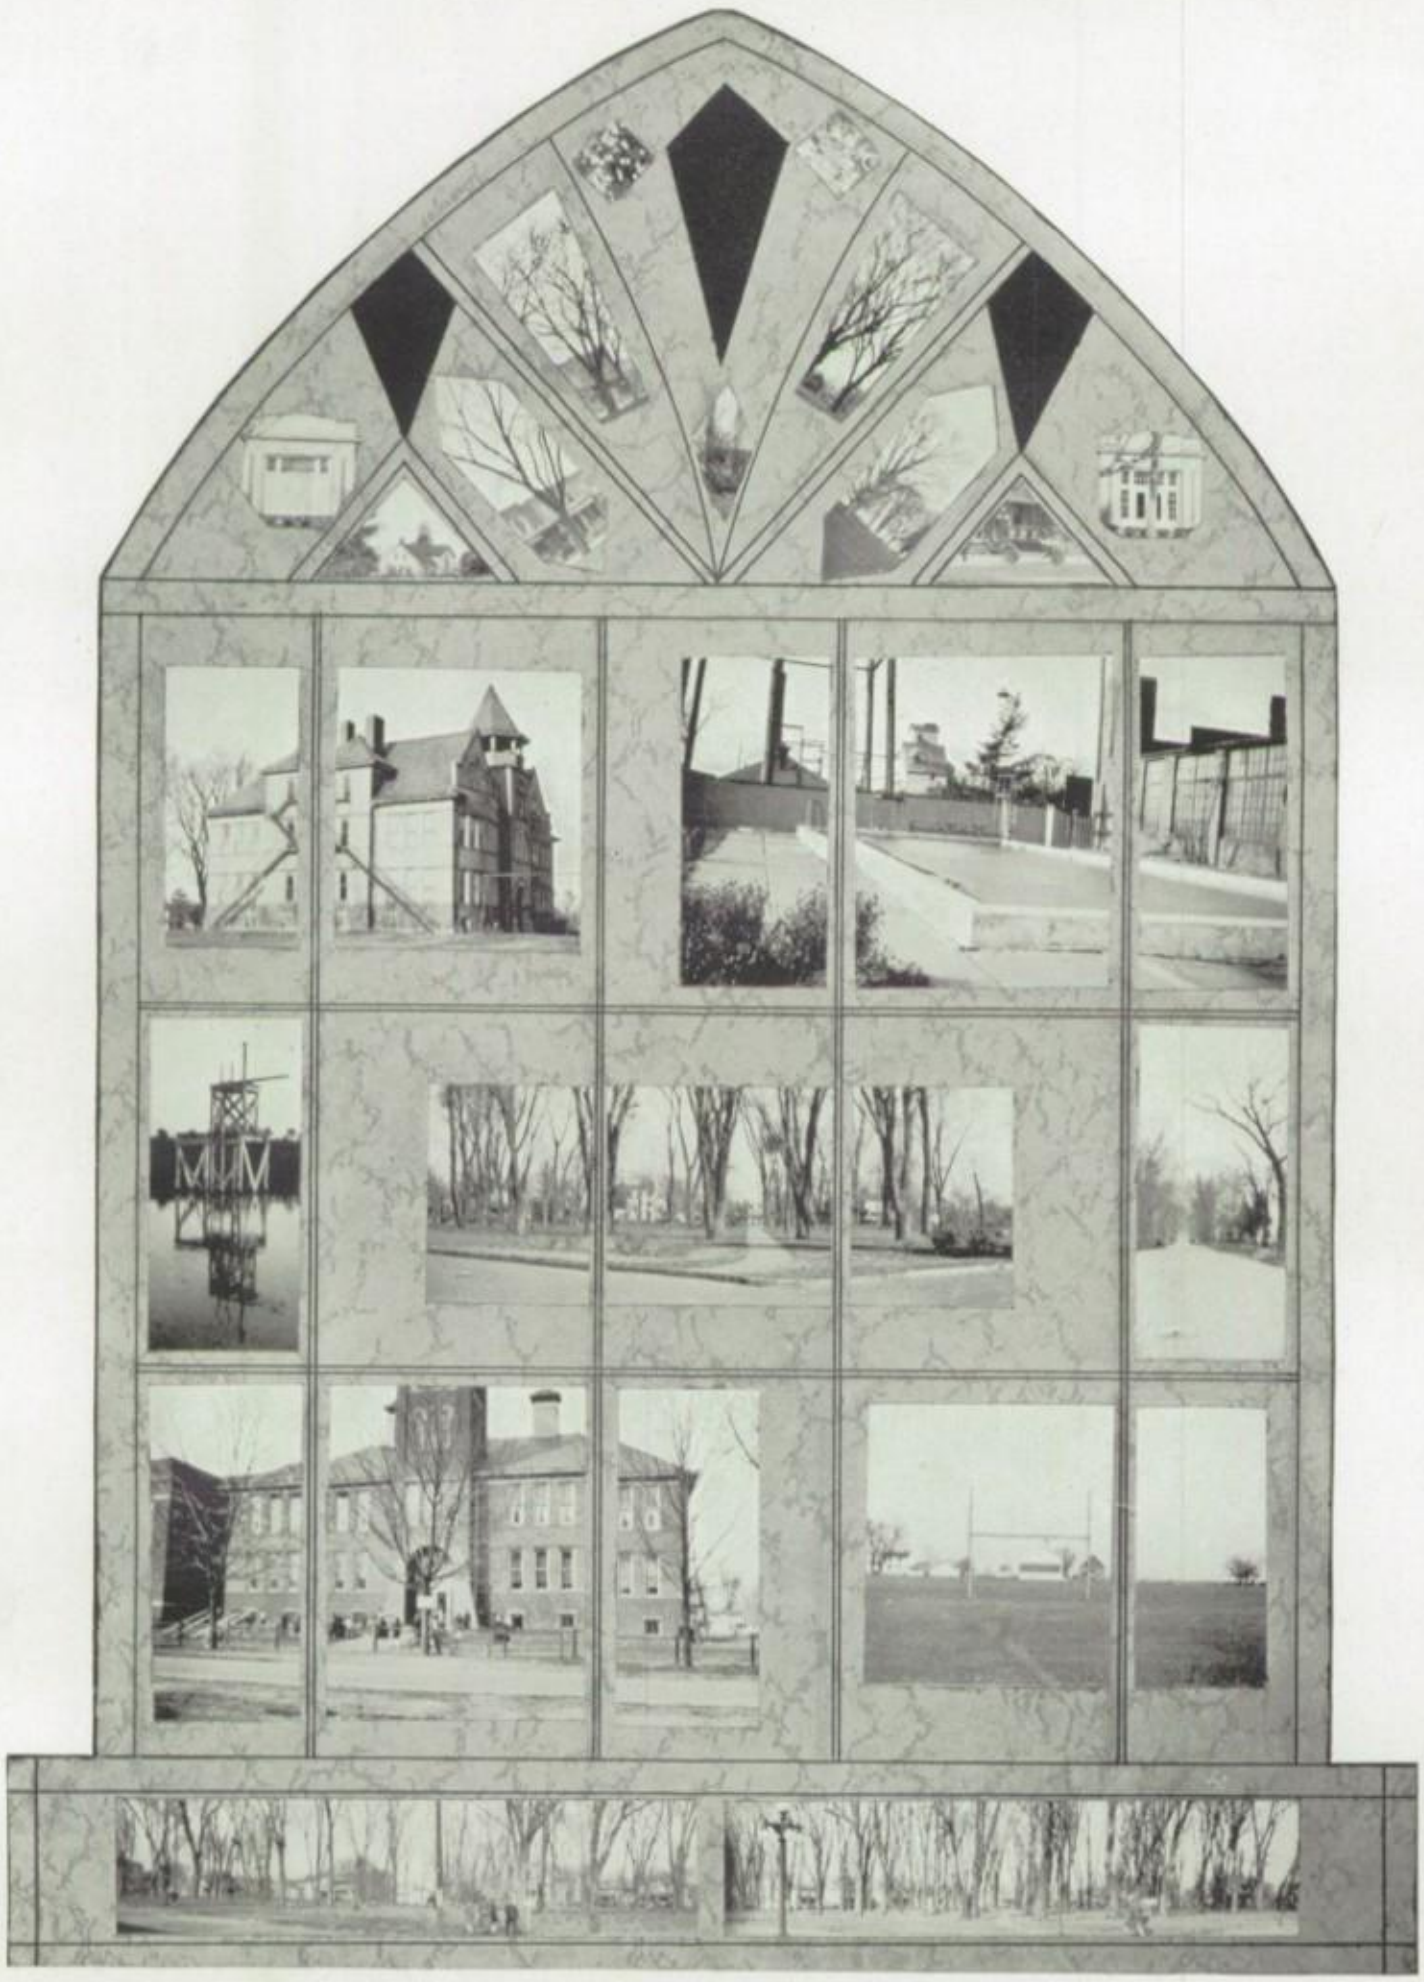
Miss Snyder: "Will you feature the word tennis?"
Ralph Markley: "Sure, ten is five times two."

Mr. Lowe: "Have you a new pair of glasses Ethel May?"
Ethel May: "Yes, and I can't walk."

Glenn G.: "A train just passed."
Don S.: "How do you know?"
Glenn G.: "There's the tracks."

Miss Hart, to John Burke in English class: "What are the characteristics of Bacon?"
John: "Grease."

Miss Hart, to Glenn Garvin: "What holds atoms together?"
Glenn: "Atomizers."



MUM

I ACKNOWLEDGE

That I am entirely too noisy—Cora Daugherty.
That I like to flirt—Juanita Hudson.
That I am always busy—Miss Snyder.
That I am a ladies' man, not a lady's man—Robert Norcross.
That I like Latin—Don Kane.
That I am a nuisance in study hall—Ed Kessler.
That I love my compact—Kathleen Dixon.
That I am a scientist—Glenn Garvin.
That I am seldom heard—Marjorie Havens.
That I pull a drag—Vern Orum.
That I am great—Kay Weaver.
That I love good music—Noel Roberts.
That I wave my hair—Jim Silberer.
That I can play football—"Lefty" Young.
That I never cause trouble—Don Sperry.

Miss Van: "A gallicium is a French idiom."
Vern Orum: "Well, what is the difference between an ordinary idiot and a French idiot?"

Miss Richardson: "Mothers having sons killed in the World War get a free pass to France."
Jimmy Silberer: "If the mother is dead, can the father go?"

Miss Turner: "Who wrote 'John Woolman's Journal?' "
Ruth Bell: "I don't believe I know."
Miss Turner: "Who wrote 'Paine's Common Sense?' "
Ruth Bell: "I don't know that either."

Miss Richardson: "Who was called 'Queen of Hearts?' "
Burnette Huffman: "U-h—Maurene!"

Eddie Kessler: "When the Judge asked you how old you were what did you say?"
Miss Knowlton: "I told him if he were a good Judge he wouldn't ask."

Esther: "When you speak to me, don't you dare to use such sharp words!"
Gale: "But, my dear, sharp words are the only kind I can get in edgewise when I talk to you."

In giving lecture notes in cooking class one morning Miss Grove read: "Phosphorous is an essential element to every body cell and is found to some extent in grains and legumes. What is a legume?"

Mary Cobb: "A legume is a small body of water."

Rock-a-bye Senior, on the tree top,
As long as you study your grades won't drop;
But if you stop digging, your standing will fall,
And down will come Senior, diploma and all.

STONES FOR CLASSES

Freshman	Emerald
Sophomore	Blarney stone
Junior	Grindstone
Senior	Tombstone

THE NEW SCHEDULE

Due to dissention in the ranks of the students as to the grilling hours they are forced to undergo, the faculty in co-operation with the school board has, after many hours of hard work and planning, revised the day's schedule. They have published the plan as follows:

10:00	Doors open.
10:30	Tardy bell.
10:30-12:00	Supervised recreation.
12:00- 1:00	Lunch.
1:00- 1:30	Compulsory class.
1:30- 2:00	General rest hour.
2:00- 3:00	Recess.
3:00- 3:30	Five o'clock tea.
3:30	Dismissal. Positively no student will be allowed to remain at school after this hour.

Each year the National Scholastic Press Association conducts an All-American Yearbook Contest, open to any high school publishing a yearbook. Each yearbook received is analyzed and rated by competent critics. An individual scorebook showing the detailed analysis of its annual is furnished each school and provides practical suggestions for the annual staff. The yearbooks are rated as follows:

All-American Honors	A
First Class Honors	B
Second Class Honors	C
Third Class Honors	D
Fourth Class—No Honor	Failure

We, of Bushnell High School, are very proud to have won high honors in the two years we have made entries. Our 1928 "Replica" received "All-American Honors." Our 1929 "Replica" received "First Class Honors."

The staff of 1930 have done their best to uphold this record, and anxiously await the decision of the association.

"Replica" Enroute

TIME—Evening in December, 1929. PLACE—Replica room.
CHARACTERS—Staff and assistants.

Tables, floor, waste-baskets, etc., show evidence of interrupted work on the mounting of pictures for the annual. Voices are heard approaching, and a key turns in the lock.

Annie Geeves (in high falsetto): "Oh, I thought I'd never get here! Where is that light? Oh, Miss Turner, someone's been in here, I———"

Miss Turner (from the hallway): "Hurry, folks please, we have a lot of people to trim tonight."

(Enter Helen S., Esther, Frances, and La Rue, followed by Miss Turner, who firmly closes and locks the door.)

Annie: "Miss Turner, I said someone has been in here. I left my compact right here and it's gone."

Miss Turner: "No?"

Annie: "Yes, I did, too, right here."

La Rue: "Well, you don't need it now, anyway. Where's the can of cement?"

(For a moment quiet reigns as each begins her work.)

Esther: "Well, don't everyone speak at once."

Frances: "I'm busy. I don't think when I talk."

Helen: "Lookie, Miss Turner, I put paste all over 'Alec's' back and still he won't stick."

Esther: "I can't do this. Look, now, I cut some of Erna's hair off."

Miss Turner: "Oh, that doesn't matter."

Annie: "I can't get these Juniors to stick to anything."

Frances: "Well, Bill's feet are too big to go on this page; I'll have to cut them off."

Helen: "Yes, and look how crooked Rut is, and Mr. Lowe won't stay where he belongs."

Miss Turner: "Let them go, I'll cut them up tonight."

La Rue: "Say, Don Sperry's better looking than that."

Esther: "Well, we didn't take the picture. But would you look at this—Howard Swartzbaugh had his arm around Cora and I cut it off."

Frances: "Serves him right!"

Annie: "Would you believe it? Here's a Freshman girl who still brings her doll to school."

Helen: "That's nothing, look at these Sophomores climbing their ancestral tree. Must be taking biology."

Miss Turner: "Esther, are all those footnotes ready?"

Esther: "Yes, but I had to put Rut in to carry the bass."

Annie: "Shall I cut off all these heads?"

Miss Turner: "Yes, they're the empty places at the top."

(And so on into the night.)

Alumni

SEVEN hundred and fifty-six have graduated from Bushnell High School since the year 1878. Due to this large number it is very probable that the following list may contain errors. The Indian trail zig-zagging through the forest is now only a tradition. The white settler cleared and widened it, but scientific road building blasted hillsides to gain a mile and save half an hour. The new industrial era demanded a direct, smooth, swift, modern system of highways.

For 38 years Stafford has been a scientific annual builder. Early methods have been improved upon or discarded. Experience has blasted away trying obstacles that eat up energy and block efficient management. Make Stafford your construction engineer and enjoy the direct modern methods embodied in books bearing the phrase

"Engraved by Stafford"

ELECTRICITY

YOUR LIFETIME SERVANT

Yesterday's students struggled mightily with poor light and adverse conditions in the search for knowledge, while their fathers and mothers slaved long hours each day in the home, industry or farm.

Today, a great modern servant shortens and lightens yesterday's bleak hours of work and study and brings to all, comforts and luxuries a king could not command a few short years ago.

This willing, inexpensive servant will be of immeasurable assistance in your future progress if you will make full use of it. Whatever your vocation —let Electricity brighten and make less difficult the path to Success!

"Boost our advertisers,
And thus you'll boost us, too;
For when you back those who back us,
You're backing us folks, too.
We want our patrons all to feel
That they have been quite wise,
And really know what means the phrase
'It pays to advertise'."
